

Exceptions – vague and embarrassing – requirements for such a finding.

Tacit contract – conduct and circumstances giving rise to such contract must be pleaded – otherwise pleading vague and embarrassing.

*Rule 18(7)- distinction between tacit term of a contract and a tacit contract.
Rule 18(7) only of application in first case.*

Contract subject to a suspensive condition – pleading must state whether condition fulfilled in order to give rise to rights and obligations – failure to furnish this information makes pleading vague and embarrassing.
